Eccretary.

CAN PASS THE TARIFF BILL for a revision of the tariff has been approved by President Taff, and that the prospects of the passage of the new measure in a few weeks are most encouraging. It is now claimed that the republicans have come to an un derstanding upon the bill and that there no longer exists any doubt as to their ability to pass it whenever they determine to. The fact that President Taft talks of getting out of Washington in June, and feels free to make an appointment to address the people of Norwich on the 250th anniversary of the town, gives evidence of new assurances that the enactment of the new tartff law at an early date to a foregone conclusion. There will be all kinds of objections to certain measures, but the soener the whole ques-tion is determined and the matter set-tled the sooner will business revive and the affairs of the country take on greater activity.

JAPAN'S WAY OF RETALIATING.

It is reported that by a revival of an old health law in Japan the authorities there hope to put a check upon the sale of California canned fruits and vegetables in that country. health law in question provide that there shall not be more than 50 per cent. of lead in the solder of the tins in which the fruits and vegetables couple he marries a present; but it is said, contains 51 per cent. som times fifty-two or fifty-three per cent.

Were this law applied impartially to the canned goods of other countries there would be no reasonable ground for complaint, but, in fact, the direct purpose appears to be to destroy the trade of the Pacific coast with Japan in favor of that of England upon the ground set forth by one merchant that England has done nothing to offend his country.

It is not strange that Japan does not feel well toward California just at present, and no one will blame Japan for resenting the conduct of that state against her people, but Uncle Sam will probably take the matter up and have a little heart to heart talk with Japan and she will see things in a kindlier light.

INCREASING ITS SHADE TREES. Meriden is going in for tree-planting The business men of the city and their progressive citizens are encouraging marked favor. The city is also making an active campaign to protect its elms and other trees. Nothing could better show the enterprise and far-sightedness of the people of that pretty city. Those trees will pay big dividends in unexpected ways.-Bristol

Splendid trees beautify any city. The cities of New England have not been giving the attention to public shade trees which they should during the past half-century and not a few point with sorrow to streets which are no longer arched by noble trees but instead of het brick pavements and disease breeding dust. Meriden has come to a consciousness of the value of shady streets, and the arboreal beauty which is inviting to the birds of the air as well as to man. Meri-

A TOWN WITH A SURPLUS. A subscriber in the town of Union, this state, sends to the Hartford Cour-

DOING GOOD WORK.

The legislature is not partial to new laws. It is doing good work in put-ting to sleep many bills. That is well. In the process it incidentally chloroforms an occasional desirable one, but we can stand the sacrifice in view of the general gain.-Bristol Press.

It is a little early yet to judge the gislature. What The Press says about the incidental loss of a good law now and then in the process of weeding out indesirable measures will find general approval among the people. The legislature is approaching the period when it will look at itself and get in a hurry, and many measures are being eserved by their calculating promoters until the psychological moment— the moment when consideration stands cond to haste-and then the legislature will work quick and make its record, and some things will get through which should have remained Governor Lilley Tuesday issued the customary Fast day proclamation designating Good Friday, April 9, as the date. The text of the proclamation can be made.

OUTSIDE OF POLITICAL OBLIGA-TIONS-

President Taft does not hesitate to make his objections known to the con-As a solemn confirmation of our trust in God's merciful Providence, and in obedience to a custom established in piety, and continued in reverence. I hereby appoint Friday, the linith day of April next ensuing, as a day of FASTING AND PRAYER, that the onus of politics should be a affiliation. Since the senators and congressmen have had the privilege of recommending these candidates it is quite a disappointment to them to ose this patronage. But the people rather like the attitude of the presdent and he will have their support in his determination to permanently establish these offices upon a nonpartisan basis. The change may no tell for any greater efficiency, but it will tell for independence and that is of value to all concerned.

SHADE TREES FOR STATE ROADS Where the good roads movement is n force and state roads are being con tructed, the planting of trees along said highways is made a part of the It is reported that the senate's plan law and of the duty of the commissioner having the work in hand. Referring to this part of the law, which the Baltimore American regards as being mandatory, it says: "Above all things the trees to be anted should not be gathered at hapazard, but should be chosen both as o kind as to age and quality with care. And once planted definite provision should be made for attention to them until they shall have passed the infantile stage. The good will and active aid of the farmers along the routes should be enlisted in the tree-planting scheme."

Our own commissioner favors the sautifying of Connecticut highways; and why should not the planting of hade trees upon the so-called state nds be made mandatory by law and ecome a part of the construction as t has been made in Maryland and

Indications are that this is to be a reat embroidery summer, and em-roidered bands of great beauty are o be had in all widths, some of them showing fine and delicate embroidery designs of plain batiste or mull, the material being left with rough edges, and meant to be used in such fashlon that the embroidery will have the air of having been executed to order for the frock.

The Waist Line.

The walst line of most new models The waist line of most new models has crept down to its normal place and a form of compromise much affected in the new models includes a lowered waist line, but keeps the locationing straightness, the result being a seni-fitting princess effect, suggesting the natural curves of the figure, but not defining them. Thus, if the short waist should be out of style, the model will pass muster, and yet, if present lines retain their prestice, the loose straightness will affect the lengthened waist.

PRINCESS ROBES.

Very handsome princess robes and clinging coats of Irish lace are made up on these lines and are being used by the designers in connection with sheer alips of batiste or mull the lace often ending at the knee and the lower part of the frock being of the limp, sheer lineeric material.

Only in the finest of lace and embroidered lingerie is such a frock actually successful, and consequently, a model of this kind is a costly luxury, but the lace will be a valuable possession, even after it is out of fashlon, in its present form, and so need on, in its present form, and so need not be considered so absolutely exravagant.
